1. What is your personal information?

The term “personal information” has the meaning given to it in the Privacy Act. Personal Information includes information or an opinion about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable from the information or opinion. In summary, personal information is any information about you that can be linked to you.

2. What personal information do we collect and hold?

Personal Information. We collect information through all our services including digital services subscription, advertising services, events, websites, mobile sites, applications (“apps”), and widgets, competitions and customer surveys (collectively, the “Services”). We collect the personal information needed to provide the Services and for our business operations. The personal information collected may consist of your name, address, telephone number, email address, job information, unique site access id, contact information, job applications if you are seeking employment, details of services you have used or enquired about, or other information about you.

Sensitive Information. Sensitive information is a specific category of personal information. Such information includes information related to racial or ethnic origin, religion or other beliefs, membership of a trade union or a profession or trade association, health information, criminal record and the like. We do not usually collect sensitive information about you and if we do, we will get your specific consent prior to the collection and use of this information. We ask that you do not send us, and you do not disclose, any sensitive personal information on or through our Services, or otherwise, unless expressly requested.

We collect some information that is not personal information, because it is not linked to you or any other identifiable person.

3. How do we collect and hold your personal information?

We collect your personal information directly from you or via the Sites, in order for you to use our Services unless it is unreasonable or impracticable to do so. If you do not wish to provide personal information to us, then you do not have to do so, however, it may affect your use of the Sites or any products and Services offered on it.

4. What information do we collect?

Registration Information is the information you provide to us in the course of registering for or acquiring our Services, for example, to create an account, become a subscriber, become an advertiser, post comments, receive a newsletter, attend an event or enter a competition. Where possible, as required by law, you may have the option of interacting with us anonymously (for example when browsing our digital products as a casual user) or using a pseudonym. We will usually make it clear whenever this is an option. This information is hosted by a third party supplier. We have taken all steps to ensure that 3rd parties deal with personal information according to the same standards we subscribe to.

Public Information and Posts consist of comments or content that you post to the Services and the information about you that accompanies those posts or content, which may include a name, user name, comments, likes, tweets, status, profile information and picture(s). Public Information and Posts are always public, which means they are available to everyone and may be displayed in search results on external search engines.

Information from Third Party Social Media. If you access or log-in to our Services through a third party social media service, or connect our Services to a third party social media service, the information we collect may also include your user ID and/or user name associated with that social media service, any information or content you have permitted the third party social media service to share with us, such as your profile picture, email address, followers or friends lists, and any information you have disclosed in connection with that social media service.

Activity Information – Cookies and Other Technologies. When you access and interact with our Services, we may collect certain information about those visits. For example, in order to permit your connection to our Services, our servers receive and record information about your computer, device, and browser, including potentially your IP address, browser type, and other software or hardware information. If you access our Services from a mobile or other device, we may collect a unique device identifier assigned to that device, geolocation data, or other transactional information from that device.

Cookies and other tracking technologies (such as browser cookies and local storage, pixel beacons, and Adobe Flash technology including cookies) are comprised of small bits of data or code that often include a de-identified or anonymous unique identifier. Websites, apps and other services send this data to your browser when you first request a web page and then store the data on your computer so that such websites, apps and other services can access information when you make subsequent requests for pages from that service. These technologies may also be used to collect and store information, such as pages you have visited, content you have viewed, search queries you have run and advertisements you have viewed in relation to your usage of the Services and other websites you have visited. Most browsers are initially set to accept cookies, but you can change your settings to notify you when a cookie is being set or updated, or to block cookies altogether. Users can manage the use of Flash technologies, with the Flash management tools available at Adobe's website. Please note that by blocking any or all cookies you may not have access to certain features, content or personalisation available through the Services.

Third parties that support the Services by serving advertisements or providing services, such as allowing you to share content or track aggregate Services usage statistics, may also use these technologies to collect similar information. We do not control these third-party technologies and their use is governed by the privacy policies of those third parties.

Information from Other Sources. We may supplement the information we collect with solicited personal information from other sources, such as commercially available sources, websites and data providers, as well as information from our business partners or affiliated companies in Australia or internationally.

Information in relation to employment/engagement with us. When you apply for a job or contract with us we may collect certain information from you or from any recruitment consultant, your previous employers and others who may be able to provide information to assist us in deciding whether or not to make you an offer of employment or engage you under a contract. We also collect personal information about individuals who are, or are employed by, our suppliers (including service and content providers), contractors, dealers, agents and corporate customers.

Collection of Personal Financial Information by a Payment Service. In some cases, we use an unaffiliated payment service to allow you to purchase a product or make payments ("Payment Service"). If you wish to purchase a product or make a payment using a Payment Service, you will be directed to a Payment Service webpage. Any information that you provide to a Payment Service will be subject to the applicable Payment Service's privacy policy, rather than this privacy policy. We have no control over, and are not responsible for, any Payment Service's use of information collected through any Payment Service.

Linked Services. The Services may also be linked to sites operated by unaffiliated companies, and may carry advertisements or offer content, functionality, newsletters, competitions or applications developed and maintained by unaffiliated companies. Conexus is not responsible for the privacy practices of unaffiliated companies, and once you leave the Conexus Services or click an advertisement you should check the applicable privacy policy of the other service

By virtue of these relationships, we may share the information you submit in connection with the Co-Branded Service with the third party. The third party's use of your information will be governed by the third party's privacy policy. We will advise you when this is occurring, or obtain your express consent to share your personal information in these circumstances.

Most advertising is delivered using Google DoubleClick and any of the following services may be enabled: Remarketing, Google Display Network Impression Reporting, the DoubleClick Campaign Manager integration, or Google Analytics Demographics and Interest Reporting. By using these services, third-party vendors, including Google, may show our ads on sites across the Internet. We and third-party vendors, including Google, use first-party cookies (such as the Google Analytics cookie) and third-party cookies (such as the DoubleClick cookie) together to inform, optimise, and serve ads based on your past visits to our Sites.
